UNBEATEN TRACKS

8 contemporary pieces for Cello and Piano

Edited by Steven Isserlis

ISBN 0-571-51976-8

Unbeaten Tracks for cello brings the diverse world of contemporary music within the reach of the less-experienced player (around Grades 4 to 7). The eight pieces in the volume – all specially commissioned by world-famous cellist Steven Isserlis – are written in an array of musical styles by some of today's most talented composers.

Steven Isserlis: 'I am delighted with this collection of weird and wonderful pieces – a collection that I hope will come to be viewed as staple repertoire for cello students, as well as fascinating encores for professionals (I'm already performing several of them regularly). One of the qualities that I find most appealing in this volume is the variety of musical personalities that shine through each offering ...'

Carl Davis	Elegy
Lowell Liebermann	Album leaf, Op.66
Olli Mustonen	Frogs dancing on water lilies
John Woolrich	Cantilena
Julian Jacobson	Hip hip bourrée
Mark-Anthony Turnage	Vocalise
